“ To the loved ones of Helen,

I was so sorry to hear of Helen's passing. When I became director of the Eatontown Senior Center in May, 2000, Helen, a long-time member of the Center, became one of my main mentors. Although I was a social worker with decades of experience, Helen was the one who taught me how to whip up meals for 45 people, how to do many of the things involved in "running" a senior center., I learned many things from and about Helen, including the fact that she had a dynamite recipe for macaroni and cheese which is now loved by members of my family as well. She could be a tough lady and certainly had to be when she was widowed so young with young children to raise. But after so many years of conversations over a cup of coffee, I learned about the love and pride she had for her family. She would bring in pictures of all of you to share and talk about the triumph of a new job, the birth new baby, a graduation or a wedding.

Helen was quite a lady.who contributed much to many throughout her life. I valued our friendship and am saddened by your loss and the loss of those of us outside your family who loved her as well.

“ Chuck and Marylou....so sorry for your loss. Even though you know she is at peace it's still hard to accept the fact that she's gone from this earth. It does get better with time.

Dear Chuck, Mary Lou, and Karen: We're so sorry to hear of her passing and of your loss. Jack stopped by to see her a few weeks ago and they had a nice visit and spoke of old times. He remembered coming to her home when Chuck and Jimmy were young kids. I also have fond memories of Helen at the Community Center, she was always very involved, helping to cook and serve many dinners. May she rest in peace. Linda Morgan
